STYLE ART DECO IN THE INTERIOR

Art Deco style is an opportunity to stand out for your wealth, because this style is very expensive. Art Deco combines the use of exotic materials (ivory, crocodile leather), antique furniture and decor, as well as the latest advances in scientific and technological progress. Art Deco is one of the most important innovations in the field of design. It is characterized by decisive, sometimes atypical geometric shapes (asymmetry, versatility), craftsmanship and functionality of interior items [3].

An international exhibition, held in 1925 in Paris and officially called the Exposition Internationale des Arts Décoratifs et Industriels Modernes, gave life to the term "art deco". Paris remained the center of the Art Deco style. His furniture was embodied by Jacques-Emil Rulmann, the most famous furniture designer of the era. Also notable are the works of Jean-Jacques Rato, the products of Süe et Mare, the screen of Eileen Gray, the forged products of Edgar Brandt metal, the products of Jewish metal and enamel of Swiss origin, Jean Dunan, the products of Rene Lalik and Maurice Marino, as well as Cartier watches and jewelry. Classical art deco representatives in the sculpture were used by Dmitry Chiparus, Claire Jean-Robert Colin, Poland Philip (France), Ferdinand Price, Otto Poerzel (Germany), Bruno Zach, and J. Lorenzl (Austria) [4].

The curtains in this style are mostly solid, the walls are decorated with black and white stripes that resemble piano keys and it looks interesting. Crystal gilded luminaires add luxury. Upholstery of upholstered furniture in the living room will emphasize upholstered natural furniture fabrics in geometric (honeycombs, strips, circles, Christmas tree, etc.) drawings and you can come across upholstery or sewn decorative furniture elements made of snake skin, crocodile or zebra (ethnic motifs), monochrome skin [1]. Art deco is about unusual combinations of colors and textures, thoughtfulness of details. This style palette is gray, white, brown, shades of metal, wood and leather. The floor is often covered with marble, parquet, black and white tile. A distinctive décor in the art deco interior is a sun-shaped mirror that gives the interior a shine and light. In the interior of this style is not recommended to use artificial materials, everything should be natural, high quality, expensive with exotic inserts [2].

For decoration of the ceiling is best suited paint, whitewash. Also, these may be stretch ceilings with glossy film. Floor lamps and table lamps in the art deco are rather a nice accessory or accent. Lamps with warm light are selected; they are placed evenly in the room for direct and clear illumination. The lighting decor is distinguished by its personality and peculiarities, such as: blown glass, forged elements, mosaic, murals, chrome. Furniture in this style is most often made in milk and bronze tones, as well as in gold. Forms are built on the basis of contrasts. Emphasis is on the internal bends and straight lines (change of opposite). Art deco is used in the decoration of any room [2].

The bedroom design in this style gives the room the elegance, sophistication and at the same time the luxury that is so inherent in the art deco. Expensive antique furniture or modern furniture, also necessarily present mirrors, which create the illusion of space. Colours are selected under the walls. The combination of black and white colors is characteristic of an art deco kitchen. This style in the kitchen underscores its importance to residents. The presence of antique details and works of art will brighten up your kitchen interior. The interior of the Art Deco bathroom is impressive with its monumentality and luxury. The geometric designs on the finish, combined with ethnic fittings and chrome faucets, give the room a sophisticated look [3].

Therefore, the main criteria for folding furniture in the style of art deco: elegance, practicality, the ability to experiment. Materials such as: snake skin, silver and ivory; allow to give furniture a luxurious and sophisticated look. Every thing that is present in the art deco interior has its own unique and value. This style is more focused on functionality, and the decoration completes the image emphasizing the elegance of the interior option.
